NWF delivers 2 millionth tonne of feed!

On Tuesday, 8 July, NWF Agriculture delivered the two millionth tonne to be produced at its feed mill in Wardle, Cheshire. The delivery was made to Stuart and Barbara Hodgkinson, long standing customers, who have a dairy farm at Earl Sterndale, near Buxton.

The NWF feed mill was opened in 1980 and it took eighteen years to reach the first million tonnes (in 1998). Such has been the successful growth of NWF feeds in recent years that the second million tonnes took only five years - proof of the demand for NWF feeds which now runs at well over 200,000 tonnes per year.
